

2006 Faculty Seminars in the Classics

Log on to Angel for Readings

Thursday
March 30th, 2006

Human Choices in an Uncertain Universe
Reflections on Science, Ethics, and the Humanities

Carl A. Rubino

12:15–2:00 PM
SCC Room C

*Can our thinking about connections
between science and the humanities help
our students –*

- gain a deeper understanding of how their choices can make a difference in their lives?
- *realize the vital importance of accepting disorder
and taking risks?*
- *see the uncertainty
that defines our human condition not as a sign of weakness
but an opportunity to fashion a real future?*

Carl A. Rubino

Edward North Professor of Classics

Hamilton College

SPONSORS

The Marathon Fund: David Eisenberg
The Faculty Development Committee
Department of Modern & Classical Languages
The College of New Rochelle

PLEASE RSVP FOR LUNCH
Ext. 5398