
The intellectual benefits of language and culture studies are many and evident, and the role of the foreign language department is essential in educating a new kind of citizen.

However, nowadays focuses are shifting. Different methodologies, different levels of proficiencies are needed, leading our students to become independent learners and to better understand the world.

We are challenged to reevaluate our vision for the future of language and cultural knowledge acquisition and find new and different ways to develop, deploy and promote foreign language learning.

*The 2003 Colloquium focused on Redesigning Foreign Language
Learning Environments*

*To receive a copy of the proceedings, send $10.00 to
The College of New Rochelle
Care of André Beauzethier
or Nereida Segura-Rico.*

André Beauzethier
Abeauzethier@cnr.edu
(914) 654-5852

Nereida Segura-Rico
nsegura@cnr.edu
(914) 654-5399

Designed by Nisha Feliz

3rd Colloquium

Teaching Cross-Cultural Understanding in the Foreign Language Class

April 8, 2005

9:00am-2:30pm
Gill Library

Organized by the Department of Modern and Classical Languages

*The College of
New Rochelle*

Program of Events

Location: Seminar Room 4th Floor-
Gill Library

Time: 9:00a.m. - 2:30p.m.

Coffee: 9:00a.m. - 9:25a.m.

Welcome: 9:30a.m.

By André Beauzethier

*Chair of the Modern and Classical Languages Department
The College of New Rochelle*

Panel I - Roundtable Discussions 9:30- 11:00a.m.

Discussant: Nereida Segura-Rico
*Dept. of Modern and Classical Languages-
The College of New Rochelle*

Victoria Ketz
Iona College

Michelle de Luca-Serpenti
Trinity School, New Rochelle

Patricia Morris
Fordham Preparatory School

Marga Taylor
Assistant Dean-The College of New Rochelle

Gale Verdi
Graduate School-The College of New Rochelle

Panel II- Student Roundtable Discussions

11:15am-12:15pm

Moderator: André Beauzethier

- Emma Cobley
- Stacy Coleman
- Nisha Feliz
- Aileen Godoy
- Judith Jeremie
- Emily Williams

Keynote Speaker 12:30-1:15pm

Dr. Kathleen Madigan
Chair of the Classical and Modern Languages Department- Rockhurst University- Fulbright Scholar in Senegal (2003-2004)

“A Year in Sénégal: Reflections on Learning and Teaching”

Lunch for all: 1:30-2:30pm

Ideas get lost if they are not passed along.

We thank Dean Thompson for his support.

We acknowledge the support provided by the Classics grant from CNR Trustee David Eisenberg.